DEPARTMENTAL PROFILE

Department of Political Science

West Silchar College, Barjatrapur, Cachar Assam

The Department of Political Science of our west Silchar College started its journey with the establishment of the college in the year 1985. It is one of the oldest departments of this College. The Political Science department is one of the leading departments of this college having the highest enrolment in “Bachelor of Arts” Students regularly for long period. Since our West Silchar College has no Honors course the students of the department of Political Science have been taking pass course only. As the college is affiliated to Assam University, Silchar, the department performs its academic activities within the course curriculum and syllabus allocated by the University. The department of Political Science organizes internal tests, home assignments, quizzes etc to evaluate the effectiveness of student's progress in study.

Students enrolled in the department are encouraged to pursue higher studies to enhance their knowledge, conducting Research and to compete in various National and State levels competitive Examinations. Many of the students who have passed out from department are serving as faculty members in schools and others institutions within and outside of North- East India and also found placements in various government and private sector organization. The department runs its academic course in B.A General (pass) in Semester mode and follows the grading system introduced by Assam University, Silchar in the CBCS (Choice Based Credit System) mode from the academic year 2018-2019. The Curriculum covers theoretical as well as empirical aspects of the discipline
